Banks Are Given Power To Limit All Withdrawals

Pennsylvania Legislature Passes Measure At Session Last Night

GOVERNOR PINCHOT IMMEDIATELY SIGNS

Believe Regulation Will Halt Hoarding—Few Banks To Take Step

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Feb. 28.—Pennsylvania will have no bank holiday.

The state's highest officials gave that promise today after enacting a measure which provides the banks with foundations upon which to rear a new financial structure and solidify the old.

Beginning today, every Pennsylvania bank may set up a plan whereby all future deposits shall be kept 100 per cent liquid. Incoming funds will be segregated from previously existing accounts and will be available to depositors immediately upon demand. Adoption of the plan is optional with the individual bank. The effect is to allow limited withdrawals on old accounts and unlimited withdrawals on new accounts.

Legislation Acts Speedily.
Moving swiftly and dramatically, the legislature in a night session consumed barely an hour in formulating effecting strategic measures designed to ease the strain on the financial houses of the state. The

NEW STATE MEASURE HAS NO EFFECT IN NEW CASTLE

"New Castle banks have no need of the provisions of the banking resolution passed by the general assembly, Monday night, and will continue functioning in the same way they have been," said Joel S. McKee, president of the New Castle Clearing House Association, today.

The statement of Mr. McKee is indicative of the position of the banks here. Travelling men making New Castle have commented upon the soundness of the banks here and the statement of Mr. McKee is merely a reiteration of a fact well known to local depositors.

At all times the policy of New Castle banks has been one of bedrock conservatism, the wisdom of such a policy is being demonstrated forcibly now when banks in other states have been unable to meet their obligations.

The action of the general assembly, Monday night, is merely precautionary and may not have to be used by many Pennsylvania banks. Pennsylvania banking laws are stringent ones but their stringency has reacted to the benefit of the depositors. However, should there be any bank in the state that feels it wise to take advantage of the provisions of Monday night's resolution, it is there.

Mayor Cermak Holding Own

Doctors More Hopeful Than For Several Days Past

OXYGEN DEVICE IS RUSHED FROM CHICAGO

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28.—A group of weary and worn, but smiling and hopeful doctors came from the sick-room of Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago today and said they were more encouraged than they have been for days. They issued this formal bulletin at 10:30 a. m. (E. S. T.):

"Mayor Cermak has continued to rest since 3 a. m. He is now asleep. It was necessary to give him an opiate because of his previous restlessness. The chest findings seem stationary. He is taking a fair amount of nourishment. Temperature, 101.2; pulse, 120; respiration, 36."

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28.—Dr. E. Sterling Nichol, of Miami, coming from Mayor Cermak's room at 8:30 a. m. E. S. T. today, said:

"Mayor Cermak is holding his own in his struggle to live. He will live another twenty-four hours, I believe, and that adds to his chances for ultimate recovery, because of the strength he should gain in that period."

The mayor's respiration had dropped to thirty four, Dr. Nichol said, but this was because he had been given morphine. This was necessary according to the physician, because of Cermak's previous extreme restlessness.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The latest device for administering oxygen was being rushed today by airplane to Mayor Anton J. Cermak at Miami. The apparatus feeds the oxygen to the patient in humidified form through a rubber tube and will spare Mayor Cermak the restlessness he has suffered under the oxygen tent.

Driver Of Car Which Hits Nitsche Auto Fails To Stop

Carl B. Nitsche, 334 Boyles avenue, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital, having sustained a fractured rib and injury to his back early last night when another machine hit the hub cap of his car. The cars were operating in opposite directions on the road between this city and New Wilmington, near the Amish church below New Wilmington.

Mrs. Nitsche, who was with her husband, was not injured. According to Mr. Nitsche's version of the accident, the force of the other car hitting the hub cap of his machine forced him against the steering wheel, causing his injury. The other car did not stop State Highway Patrolman Cunningham is investigating the accident.

Calf Stolen From Pulaski Farmer

Two Thefts From Special Police While They Are Patrolling Neighborhood

Constable Robert McClenahan of New Bedford is investigating the theft of a calf from the farm of John Urevitch of Pulaski township. The calf was taken from the stable and was presumably butchered. This is the second theft of that nature in Pulaski township. In the other case a heifer was stolen and was butchered on the premises. The thieves were arrested and sentenced.

Chicken thefts, which were quite numerous in the New Bedford district before the appointment of a group of special police, have almost ceased. One of the special police had some chickens stolen while he was out patrolling the neighborhood, and another had some sheep stolen while he was on similar duty, but aside from these thefts the neighborhood has been comparatively quiet.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—His battered head covered by a woman's house apron, the body of a slain butter and egg dealer of Marengo, Ill., was found today at the rear of a school house.

The victim was John Hiderman, 55, who made daily trips to Chicago in a small truck to peddle poultry products from house to house. James Sullivan, fireman at the school, opened the rear door leading to the alley cinder pit and discovered the body lying on a pile of cinders.

Hiderman was sprawled on his back, the house apron thrown over his head and bound tightly about his neck. Police said his head had been crushed by repeated blows.

Almost side by side along Washington street today stood cars bearing Arizona and Wisconsin license tags. The Arizona plates, made from copper, had black numerals. Wisconsin's tags were blue and white.

Japanese Planes Hurl Bombs, Fail To Scare Chinese

Major-General Frank Sutton Finds Japanese Using Shells He Made At Mukden

MEN IN TRENCHES AT DISADVANTAGE

Chinese Do Not Have Trench Anti-Aircraft Guns To Fight Off Japanese Planes

(A narrow escape from a Japanese aerial bomb made from one of the shells he manufactured for the Chinese many years ago is described today by Major General Frank M. Sutton, famous British writer, war hero and soldier of fortune, who is acting as special correspondent for International News Service on the Jehol battlefield.

The writer, known as "one-arm" Sutton, filed his dispatch just before leaving Lingyuan, in the interior of Jehol, for the front line where the Japanese are pressing toward Jehol City. Major General Sutton was at one time military advisor to the late Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord.—I. N. S.)

Whirling down in a dust storm that obscured the sight of arid mountains, ravines and desolate bad lands, broken by small pine woods, I reached an advance position to go over the front line trenches.

These lines are being bombed daily by the Japanese in anticipation of an attack, but the Chinese are not yielding and continue to strengthen their positions.

Cup of Tea
Chatting with Colonel Pang Chin-Chun, who is commanding the advanced positions, after seeing the trenches where the occasional shots were fired, I asked him why there were no planes today.

"Can't we have a little excitement?" I asked.
"It's about time now," he answered. "This is just about the hour that the planes always come over."

Then, while preparing to take my departure after a cup of tea—a gesture of hospitality which even war cannot divorce from the Chinese—a plane came over the hills, flying low and machine-gunning the village streets. Three bombs were dropped. One of them fell into the

Business As Usual For Banks Of State

(International News Service)
It was "business as usual" with practically all Pennsylvania financial institutions today. At noon, only a few banks scattered throughout the commonwealth gave any indication of taking advantage of the legislature's action in giving the secretary of banking power to regulate deposit withdrawals.

No Action Taken.
Pittsburgh, generally regarded as the bulwark of Pennsylvania finance, received news of the legislation with passive tranquility. No bank in the Pittsburgh area limited withdrawals and no future limitation was in prospect.

A. E. Braun, president of the Pittsburgh Clearing House Association, predicted continued full payment on demand to all depositors. At Erie, however, ten member banks of the Erie Clearing House Association, including four national banks, decided to restrict withdrawals on all previous accounts to five

East Side Gas Station Robbed

Hold-up Occurs About Three O'clock This Morning

REPORT ROBBER GETS ABOUT $70

A short time before three o'clock this morning, a holdup man walked into the East Side Service station, 718 East Washington street, gun in hand and ordered H. P. Melvin, the night attendant, to open the cash register.

According to the statement made to the police by Mr. Melvin, he said "Come in" to the man, whom he believed to be a customer, as he opened the door. The man replied "I'm coming in" as he walked in covering Mr. Melvin with the gun.

Mr. Melvin declined to open the cash register and the holdup man told him a second time to open it. Mr. Melvin then informed the holdup man, that he would not open the register, but would show him how to do so.

The holdup man then opened the register, taking the money from the register with his left hand and placing it in his right overcoat pocket.

He then whistled and Mr. Melvin noticed a car standing outside, into which the holdup man got with his loot, amounting to approximately (Continued On Page Two)

Fund For Railroad And Road Changes Is Asked From State

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 28.—Senator Alonzo S. Batchelor, Beaver, today was sponsor of a bill in the Senate authorizing the construction of a dam and spillway at the outlet of Pymatuning swamp.

He asked $500,000 appropriation for the construction work and relocation of railroads and highways. The bill was offered as a supplement to the act of 1929 providing for the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning swamp and reservoir for waters of the Shenango and Beaver rivers.

Representative Hugh M. Stevenson, Mercer, introduced a similar bill in the House last night.

He has been one of Ford's chief aides in the present banking situation, and has been mentioned as a prospective director of the New People's National and the Manufacturer's national banks which Henry and Edsel Ford are backing.

No Contemplated Action.
Although reported no banks in that section were contemplating limitation of withdrawals, Bellefonte and Clearfield assumed the same attitude, while the liquid position of banks in Franklin and Oil City, Venango county, was believed sufficiently strong to preclude any curtailment of withdrawals.

Officials of the McDowell National, the First National and the Merchants and Manufacturers National Banks at Sharon joined in statistics.

Mystery Plane Test Pilot Dies

(International News Service)
NEW CASTLE, Del., Feb. 28.—Stuart Chadwick, 33, a test pilot, was killed and the navy's new "mystery plane" was wrecked in an ill-fated test flight near the Bellanca Aircraft factory today.

Chadwick met death when his parachute failed to open after he had leaped from the nose-diving plane at an altitude of 1500 feet.

The pilot had remained in the plane during part of the dive, attempting to right the craft. After cutting the ignition switch he "balled out" over the side and plunged to earth like a plummet.

His body landed a short distance from the wrecked plane.

Will Not Invoke Emergency Plan At Pittsburgh

Western Pennsylvania Financial Institutions Are Bulwark Financially

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28.—Pittsburgh bankers today joined in assurance that local banks would not take advantage of the emergency powers granted by the State Legislature permitting restriction of withdrawals.

Of all the states, they said, Pennsylvania is considered one of the strongest financially, and the western section of the state was declared to be the bulwark financially.

Local bankers said they did not know of any Western Pennsylvania bank which would find it necessary to take advantage of the restriction grant.

A. E. Braun, president of the Pittsburgh Clearing House Association and the Mellon-controlled Farmers National Bank, summed up the attitude of Pittsburgh bankers.

"The Pittsburgh Clearing House Association has made no request for emergency legislation designed to limit withdrawals of deposits."

"The suggestion evidently originated elsewhere in the state. Therefore, I believe that Pittsburgh banks will continue to pay depositors in full in accordance with their present practice."

Tension Felt In Peiping Today As Barricades Go Up

Barricades Are Erected By Japanese Between Concession And Native City

FEAR LOOTING BY CHINESE FORCES

Weather 30 Degrees Below Zero Is Taking Heavy Toll Among Jehol Defenders

By JOHN GOETTIE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
PEIPING, Feb. 28.—Tension between Chinese and Japanese residents of Tientsin flared today when Nationals of both countries began erecting barricades between the Japanese concession and the native city.

The barricades were erected in fear defeat of the Chinese in Jehol would mean serious trouble in the Peiping-Tientsin area, with probable hostilities between Chinese and Japanese residents of the district.

It was also feared Chinese troops fleeing through the district might plunder the homes of Japanese and cause a serious outbreak.

According to reports here from the front, intense cold in Jehol Province with the thermometer registering 30 degrees below zero, slowed the Japanese advance.

Many Are Frozen
Large numbers of Chinese and Japanese troops were said to have frozen to death, since their protection from the bitter weather consists only of the sketchiest sort of shelters.

In an effort to aid their advanced forces, Japanese planes dropped bundles of fur coats to the advancing forces at Hsaiwa, where severe weather and fatigue of the troops have momentarily stopped a section of the Japanese drive toward Jehol City.

The cold belt extends to Chaoyang, where the victorious Japanese have distributed captured Chinese padded garments among the shivering and impoverished populace.

Owing to the cold, dispatches said, the operations in Jehol have changed from open to trench warfare.

Chinese Resistance Stiffens
TOKYO, Feb. 28.—Despite stiffened Chinese resistance, the Japanese war machine captured four more towns in Jehol province today as the drive toward Jehol City progressed.

Parishekoumenmen and Kolu-yentsu fell before the invaders, who reported widespread opposition in the mountains surrounding Lingyuan, important Chinese stronghold. Sweeping down from the North, a detachment led by Major General Mogi occupied Fangsheng, bringing the Japanese forces even closer to Chihfang, northern terminus of the Chinese defense line.

Another battalion, after a stiff all-night fight, captured the Shamaoshan area, a mountainous district outside Lingnan, gateway to the important Chinese defense area at Lingyuan. Many Chinese were killed in this engagement, reports said.

The war office announced Chinese casualties in the Jehol campaign up to yesterday numbered 3,000. Japanese troops, it was stated, were more seriously plagued by frostbite than by Chinese bullets.

PROTESTS COST OF STATE RELIEF PLAN

Big Overhead Should Be Cut

Greensburg Man Resigns Relief Post As Protest At Huge Cost

TELLS HOW STATE HIRES BIG FORCE

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 28.—Declaring overhead expense in the administration of relief had brought the state to "the brink of being engulfed in a social workers' complex," E. Arthur Sweeney, prominent Greensburg publisher, today announced submission of his resignation from the Westmoreland county emergency relief board to Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

Sweeney, citing the recent authorization of a $200-per-month county executive director, remarked:

"I have been unable to see the wisdom of using a large sum of relief money for administrative purposes."

"I am quite familiar with the arguments of a paid organization, with executive directors, auditors and controllers and investigators for each of the counties. I have also taken into consideration that these pleas are brought to the counties by field representatives, inspired by the highly paid state organization, whose directing head receives a salary of $10,000 per annum and his assistant, $8,000, with graduated salaries for others in the department."

Large Paid Personnel.

The publisher pointed out that a paid personnel of other leading relief workers with salaries ranging downward from $5,000 to $2,000 now exists.

Their positions, he said, include a chief clerk, $3,600; director of supervisory field work, $3,000; assistant to director of supervisory field work, $2,400; purchasing agent, $3,900; assistant purchasing agent, $2,000; nutritionist, $4,800; publicity director, $5,000, and five field representatives at $2,400 each.

Laconically characterizing these expenditures "indeed modest" when compared with the cost of administrative relief in Allegheny county, Sweeney said:

"In the department there, we find 194 clerks, 127 typists, 391 investigators, 37 interviewers, 40 supervisors and five assistant supervisors, making a total of 794 employees. The estimated monthly payroll in that county is $80,000 with approximately $12,000 a month for transportation, supplies, postage, telephone, etc. There we have in one county alone, based on present costs, an expenditure of $864,000 per annum."

Millions For Administering Relief.

"At this rate of going, how many millions is it likely to take to administer relief in Pennsylvania for the next year Sweeney asked. He added:

"And I am told that the state department is talking of a five year plan. It seems to me that the state is on the brink of being engulfed in a social workers' complex."

A return to the dollar-a-year nominal salary method, of widespread use during the world war for capable relief executives was urged by Sweeney. He said:

"I firmly believe that if a call free from all suspicion of politics, were to be made by those in authority, that services of these men would be forthcoming. Such executive direction would insure the maximum in experience and ability by people familiar with the expenditures of large sums of money and the handling of large numbers of people, together with expert knowledge on matters of organization."

Rapping the organization already set up in Harrisburg, the many paid county organizations now being urged and "the vast army of investigators to be turned loose soon," Sweeney questioned whether the department of relief might not outrank other state departments in the number of employees before expiration of the current year.

Danger Is Seen.

"There is an inherent danger in such an organization, in addition to the diversion of large sums for salaries," Sweeney warned. "The future of the jobs thus created will of necessity depend upon the continuance of relief in a big way."

"Will such a newly created department of salaried people bend their efforts toward wiping out relief or will the tendency be to organize it for a long engagement?" He concluded:

"I feel confident that a proper appeal to the patriotic men and women of ability in Pennsylvania would bring sufficient volunteer help to administer the necessary relief in a proper way."

courtyard next to Fang's headquarters.

I watched from a dugout while the plane roared low. The detonation of the bombs shook the houses to their foundations. Men, women, children and even dogs scurried for cover.

Helped Make Shells

I inspected the craters left by the bombs and came across a dud.

Imagine my feelings at finding the dud was an adapted six-inch trench mortar shell—one of those which I had manufactured at Mukden five years ago while military advisor to old Marshal Chang Tso-Lin.

An American hen laying a thousand-year-old Chinese egg had nothing on me.

Being an old soldier, I didn't die, but nearly faded away. Those Japanese have actually been converting my own Mukden shells for use as airplane bombs.

Colonel Fang pulled my leg a bit, charging that I had made dud shells. But when the Japanese converted them they changed the fuses. I disclaimed responsibility, as I could not guarantee their reliability under such conditions.

Chinese Unperturbed

The incident served to show the excellent spirit of the Chinese troops in the front line. They are absolutely unperturbed by daily bombings such as this, although they have no anti-aircraft guns and are obliged to receive the aerial visitors with machine guns and rifles.

Japanese planes, I was informed, recently bombed a country fair at a nearby village. A number of civilians were wounded.

emergency banking plan is similar in principle to that adopted recently by New Jersey.

A state assembly ordinarily torn by factional politics approved the resolution establishing the plan with a unanimity unprecedented in Pennsylvania in recent years.

After his signature one minute after midnight today, Gov. Gifford Pinchot declared that the resolution "makes it unnecessary to declare a moratorium for Pennsylvania banks. There will be no such moratorium."

Under the terms of the joint resolution, the state secretary of banking "is authorized and directed to take possession of any bank because of its decision not to meet in full" its liabilities for prior deposits, provided the bank is able to continue on a paying and liquid basis regarding all deposits accepted after it adopts the plan.

Meanwhile, the liabilities previously existing could be gradually liquidated as the bank's resources on old accounts permit. Where a bank adopts the plan, the secretary of banking will determine the percentage of payments which may be made on old deposits just as he has been doing in the case of banks he has closed and taken into the possession of the state.

Few Banks To Take Steps.

"Unquestionably," said Governor Pinchot, "only a small minority of the banks of Pennsylvania will at this time find it advisable to take advantage of the terms of the joint resolution. How few are compelled to do so will depend on the restraint and cooperation of their depositors."

"This action is taken to safeguard the mass of Pennsylvania depositors from suffering from the needless desire of hysterical depositors to withdraw their funds. It should also preclude the immediate calling of many loans and the hasty foreclosure of many mortgages which otherwise would be unavoidable."

In a prepared statement to the press, Governor Pinchot explained the banking plan in part as follows:

"The small number of banks affected by this resolution will, upon application to the secretary of banking, be authorized to set up two kinds of accounts:

"1. Balances existing before the bank applies for such authority. These may not be withdrawn in full immediately, but may be withdrawn in such proportion, if any, as the secretary of banking approves."

"2. New balances created by deposits made after the application shall be received. These new balances must be one hundred per cent liquid and can be withdrawn in full at any time."

To Halt Hoarding

"The people of Pennsylvania may safely draw from their banks the money they need for current expenses. Cashing checks for this purpose is not what endangers the

Hitler Planning To Rid Germany Of Communists

Chancellor Hitler And Nazi Troops Undertake Biggest Roundup In History

By EDWARD L. DEUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—Convinced the incendiary fire which damaged the Reichstag building was part of a widespread Communist conspiracy to overthrow the government, Chancellor Adolf Hitler's Nazi storm troopers and police today carried out the most sweeping roundup of radicals in the nation's history.

"Communists plotted to overthrow the government," Captain Herman Wilhelm Goering, minister without portfolio, told the cabinet in an emergency session.

Situation Precarious

"The situation is precarious. It is a matter of life and death to the German nation."

"The government is determined to ruthlessly arrest all political personalities even remotely connected with those who plotted the revolution."

After hearing Goering's statement, the cabinet voted to submit to President Von Hindenburg for his signature an emergency decree entitled: "For the protection of the people against the Communist menace."

The decree contains far-reaching restrictions of personal freedom and if signed will sound the death knell of the Communist party in this country.

In the course of the roundup which had netted 410 prisoners up to noon, police found documents which were alleged to reveal the Communists had laid careful plans for a reign of terror, including the poisoning of water and food supplies.

BUSINESS AS USUAL FOR BANK OF STATE

ing no restrictions had been placed on deposits there. Harry B. McDowell, head of the McDowell Bank and former president of the Pennsylvania State Bankers Association, said:

"Conditions are normal at Sharon."

Jefferson county bankers indicated the resolution passed by the legislature would have no effect on banking in that section.

Officials of the Clearing House Association of New Castle also informed member bank depositors that the policy of payment in full and on demand would be continued.

No Limitations.

Kittanning, in Armstrong county, reported that member banks of the county banking association had decided against limitation of withdrawals from savings or checking accounts.

The Scranton Clearing House Association and the northern anthracite Bankers Association announced that all members will effect a five per cent restriction on withdrawals. Every bank in Scranton and in two scores of nearby municipalities are members of one or both associations.

Both organizations announced in statements they issued that the five per cent limitation would not be rigidly enforced, however, as a general rule but was merely adopted as a policy and will be construed very liberally. The statements said there will be no restriction on withdrawals for general business purposes and business concerns will experience no difficulty in meeting payrolls.

Wilkes-Barre banks and the clearing house of that city at noon had announced no decision to place a restriction upon the withdrawal of deposits.

Bankers in Philadelphia said they regarded the local situation as "being in good shape."

None of the Philadelphia banks immediately took advantage of the legislative relief and the same situation prevailed in the eastern section of the state generally.

Fake News Cries Must Be Stopped Declares Mayor

Newspapers From Other Cities To Be Watched By Police

Unless newspapers for out-of-town newspapers call out their wares properly they will not be allowed to cry "Extra!" or voice the nature of the news in the newspapers, Mayor Charles B. Mayne said today.

He said newspapers for Pittsburgh and Youngstown newspapers yesterday shouted about sensational news. An inspection, he declared, showed the newspapers were misrepresenting the news carried in the newspapers.

"Unless this practice is stopped they will be compelled to sell by calling 'Paper!'" Mayor Mayne said.

The mayor said he does not wish to stop boys from selling papers or make it hard for them.

However, he said that now is no time for boys shouting something sensational when the newspaper carries no such story.

Safe Driver's Card Given To Operators

Safe Drivers Emblems Are Placed On New Cars

Central safety committee of the Pennsylvania Power Company held its regular meeting at the New Castle office recently to consider safe practices and act upon the recommendations concerning safety from the employees of all departments. This committee meets every two months and consists of operating superintendents.

Those in attendance were Messrs. J. A. Gardner, line superintendent at Zelenople; P. L. Hutley, line superintendent at Sharon; C. A. Wilkinson, line superintendent at New Castle; J. R. Mitchell, sub-station superintendent at Sharon; C. A. Latona, meter superintendent at New Castle; Joseph Timer, Greenville; L. B. Round, vice president and general manager; T. L. Paden, electrical superintendent, and L. M. Shields, general rights-of-way superintendent.

Favorable action was taken on a number of safety suggestions submitted by the company's employees and other standing business was acted upon. Safe driver's cards, presented by the western Pennsylvania division of the National Safety Council, were awarded to 142 drivers who have driven from April 1 to September 30 without a highway accident.

Safe driver emblems were assigned to the division cars that have been driven for one year or more without a highway accident; Greenville division receiving 16, Sharon 18 and New Castle and Zelenople 47, out of a total of 113 cars.

Mr. Round called the committee's attention to the relationship of speed to the distance covered in a given time of an automobile and asked that signs be posted in conspicuous places calling this to the drivers' attention—that a car going 60 miles per hour travels 88 feet per second.

A report of James Watson of the sub-station department on oxy-acetylene welding and safe methods of its use was discussed by the committee.

A World's Record

MORE than three thousand births without a single loss of either mother or child! That is the official Pitt County record of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, in fifty years' family practice in Illinois.

No wonder mothers have such entire confidence in giving little ones Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin!

If you have a baby, you have constant need of this wonderful preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs. A child who gets this gentle stimulant for the stomach, liver and bowels is always healthier. It keeps children's delicate systems from clogging. It will overcome the most stubborn condition of constipation. It builds them up, and is nothing like the strong cathartics that sap their strength and energy.

A coated tongue or bad breath is the signal for a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Children take it readily, for it is really delicious in flavor. Taste it! Take Syrup Pepsin yourself, when sluggish or bilious, or you are troubled with sick headaches and no appetite. Take some for several days when run-down, and see how it picks you up.

It is a prescription preparation which every drug store has ready; in big bottles, just ask anywhere for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

MRS. RAPPOLD IS

GENERAL ATTERBURY OPTIMISTIC

GENERAL ATTERBURY, returning from a trip through the West, is optimistic of the future. The president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the greatest of all lines, in convinced that the rail systems will come back into their own. While the East has been listening to stories of hard times in the West, General Atterbury discovers that economic conditions have not been felt out there so seriously as here reports the Philadelphia Inquirer. He found a spirit of hopefulness prevailing.

But while he "oozes optimism," in the chosen words of a Chicago interviewer, he nevertheless issues a warning. The people "must keep their feet on solid ground" and congress must avoid "dangerous legislation." By dangerous legislation he referred particularly to currency inflation. Inflation would drastically reduce the value of the dollar.

Four years, in the natural course of events, are ahead of the Roosevelt administration. If wisdom prevails recovery will be certain. Recovery always has come after depressions. We shall experience it again if congress keeps its head, declines to undermine the nation's credit and refuses to try dangerous experiments.

REHABILITATE

Mayor Murphy, of Detroit, struck the nail squarely on the head when he said: "The time has come when we must rehabilitate the unemployed in this country. After having been two years on relief rolls," the mayor continued, "most people have reached the bottom physically, mentally, and in morale. They must be helped to get on their feet again, no matter what it costs."

Rehabilitation of 12,000,000 unemployed is no small task. Its accomplishment is a national undertaking. This may entail a revolution in industry, business, even in manner and mode of living. But rehabilitation is the only way in which our government and institutions can be made secure and peace and order can be assured. This country can not be subjected to the experiments and innovations of isms and schisms and continue to progress.

But for the intelligence of the American people this country long ago would have witnessed violent efforts to end suffering. It is this same intelligence that now will insure co-operation with government or any other responsible agency in promoting self-help.

Mayor Murphy would direct relief toward self-help, and this toward rehabilitation. He's right also when he says: "Reconstruction must now include the individual, the fellow at the bottom, so that he have consuming capacity."

MAINE TO REMAIN THE POLITICAL ORACLE

Maine's September elections proved last year to be a barometer of the nation's political thought in November. Until the amazing overturn in Republican majorities which brought the presidency to Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Pine Tree state's tradition had been gradually losing its significance. People throughout the country had ceased to take Maine's forecasts seriously. Then suddenly the events of 1932 revived faith in the political oracle. Evidently Maine appreciates the value of this advertising. For the senate at Augusta has refused to sustain the House action which would have changed the state election date to November.

The present generation can remember when Vermont also chose its state officers a fortnight prior to the autumnal equinox. In fact, the precession of equinoxes was scarcely more regular than the precession of Vermont's state and presidential elections. However, the practice was abandoned in 1914, leaving a clear field to the northern neighbor.

Now Maine is determined to hold her lonely place in the sun. But the sun shines brightly there only for a few months. Summer tourists make the most of it. In the upper reaches of Aroostook winter descends early. Its icy blasts keep Democrats from venturing outdoors to reach the polling places. Only in the more equable southern climate of Aroostook did the supporters of Mr. Roosevelt brave the elements in a reasonable majority on the bleak November day. Yet in September it was the northern part of the state whose fair-weather citizens came out in numbers sufficient to send harbingers of Mr. Roosevelt to congress.

So Maine will continue to name her governor, federal and state legislators in the ninth month, while the presidential ticket will be decided in the eleventh month when all except the robust, both physically and mentally, will be disfranchised.

MAKING IT BRIEF

President-elect Roosevelt will deliver an inaugural address from eight to 15 minutes in length, which should set—since he is no Floyd Gibbons—an all-time record.

But isn't that long enough for an inaugural address? The country only recently listening to him for hours and days and weeks. All he had to say he said then or will say in his message to congress a month from now. And any man with something worth saying can get it off his chest in eight minutes.

Eight minutes will provide ample time for Mr. Roosevelt to say "thank you" formally, officially and gracefully, and to add something to the effect that actions speak louder than words. It is only the man with a paucity of ideas and a plethora of conversation who talks and talks and talks.

As a matter of fact inaugural crowds gather to cheer the new president rather than to hear him. They also come to see the crowds and the horses.

Economy in words is an excellent way to start a new administration. It augurs well for an economical administration, if we are to believe the old maxim that the sparing with words are usually sparing with dollars.

America will be better off when the knows instead of the noes have it.

STAY IN THE HOME TOWN

At times you are seriously displeased with that son of yours because you think he is not making sufficient effort to procure a position.

In your day it was sometimes difficult but not impossible to get a job—it was just to try hard enough and the work materialized.

The remuneration was small and you knew fellows who would not accept jobs, some of them, because of long hours and small wages.

So you think perhaps your boy is too particular.

Yet he may be as willing and as anxious to work, as you are to have him.

His efforts may be as earnest as yours were—every bit.

But it "just isn't in the wood," to find a job.

Nobody's fault, but too many for each job, and employers, uncertain what to do next, are loath to take on help that perhaps they cannot pay.

Boys should remember that it pays to stay around in their own home town as things are today because men are employing those they know—the home fellows—as first choice if jobs develop.

Boys may find it pays to keep out of bad company when jobs do become more numerous, for the older men are looking for dependability.

He was very hungry, so he pushed open the swing doors of the restaurant and entered. It was a rough, ill-smelling place, but he thought he would try a cup of coffee and something to eat.

The waitress brought coffee in a thick, heavy cup.

"Where's the saucer?" inquired our fastidious friend.

"We don't give no saucers here," replied the girl. "If we did, some ill-bred ignoramus would come blowing in and drink out of his saucer, and we'd lose a lot of our swellest customers."

Baruch Emphasis On Credit Called Valuable Federal Guide

Former Government Official Believed To Have Delivered Blow At Theory Of Inflation, Though His Ideas On Taxation Are Held Difficult

Bernard M. Baruch, in leading off the testimony of business men who have been called to advise the government on economic matters, gets the attention of the country as he places chief emphasis on the importance of sound credit as a basis for improvement. His ideas are declared to be valuable in theory, but to offer difficulties in achievement.

It is felt that he delivers another strong blow at the idea of inflation. His high position in the Wilson administration connects the problems of the war with those of the depression.

Several requirements set forth by Mr. Baruch are recognized by the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, which offers the comment: "He would proceed no further in his program of reconstruction until this shall have been brought about. And yet, reports indicate that the budget will be balanced. The government has committed itself to such formidable outlays in public funds that it is counted all but impossible to bring it back anywhere near an adjustment of its spending to its revenue. To lay this mudsill under the structure of a rebalanced economic life in America would require, of course, drastic surgery and radical programs of retrenchment. When a Federal government runs into debt at the reported rate of around a million dollars a day, one can get some sort of a comprehension of the extent to which economy would have to be invoked to stop off this oceanic drain upon public funds. And yet it is obvious that some time and some how this fearful discrepancy between income and outlay must be curbed at all costs. No republic can survive with such an unintelligent financial set-up as is now being tolerated in Washington. The Democratic party that goes into power at this critical moment in our national history could do no better than shuck its coat and apply its energies and its intelligences to this task, without favor or fear of consequences."

"The Baruch speech," according to the OKLAHOMA TRIBUNE, "was a stimulating and well-considered discussion of causes for international friction which, to his mind, can only aggravate conditions. In these views he stands with the President." Agreement with President Hoover is emphasized also by the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, which in its series of suggestions: "He is opposed to any form of currency inflation, and believes that the balancing of the federal budget by means of economies and a few fairly distributed additional taxes is the indispensable condition of economic recovery. He has no faith in the political plans for farm relief, but stresses the necessity of rather drastic readjustments of agricultural and other debts. Some of his concrete suggestions in regard to the sacrifices to be demanded of creditors will provoke dissent, but doubtless they are offered tentatively and provisionally. Congress would do well to give heed to Mr. Baruch's suggestions. His uncompromising opposition to currency tinkering, to endless borrowing by the federal treasury, to the financing of huge national deficits by the banks and the jeopardizing of the government's credit by wasteful expenditures does not please the inflationists, but it is encouraging to commerce, industry and finance. Millions of Americans will hope that it reflects the settled convictions of the President-elect."

The warning that the budget must be balanced and that the national credit must be maintained, as viewed by the OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES, "should carry weight with Congress and the people." That paper calls for "adjustment with a minimum of additional taxation." The PHILADELPHIA EVENING BELL comments on his advice: "It would be bootless to berate an expiring Congress for its failure to grasp the budget bull by the horns. But it should not be futile to point out what is the first and most impressive job of the succeeding body—the setting in order of the national finances, to the end that the credit of the United States shall continue to occupy an impregnable position and that the rest of the world may be set a helpful and encouraging example."

"He presented a program," in the judgment of the HOUSTON POST, "much of it quite desirable, but to carry out which would require an extraordinary exercise of power, as for example a slashing reduction of principal and interest on farm mortgages, quite appealing, but beyond the pale of legislation, put forward doubtless by Mr. Baruch to cover his retreat from inflation of the currency. One way out of this farm mortgage difficulty would be a considerable increase in the silver coinage, even the two-bit pieces, but evidently Mr. Baruch is dead set against any such policy, favoring instead an international agreement on silver." Mr. Baruch's suggestion of a reduction of the federal budget by saving is good, as also is his proposal to abandon present methods of treasury financing, for the treasury ought not to be mixed up in the country's banking and currency concerns to the extent made possible under the Federal Reserve act."

"Most of his points are good," declares the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN REVIEW, while the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL offers the comment: "There is no sounder authority on economic conditions. He has proved his soundness at every turn since his chairmanship of the War Industries Board under Woodrow Wilson. He has proved it so notably the very President since, including Wilson, has sought with profit his advice. The views of no man in America on the conditions which are the subject of the Senate committee's inquiry are more worthy of thoughtful consideration than the views of Bernard Baruch. And he is as clear in defining them as he is firm in holding them. When he expressed them before the Senate committee no member of that body could fail to comprehend their meaning or could doubt their sincerity. And the sincerity of a man like Baruch is a powerful force in itself. He did not minimize the desperate situation he was asked to discuss. He did not dodge its difficulties or blink the penalties of unwise treatment of it. But wise treatment of it will insure full restoration of national health. And wise treatment is simple; there is nothing confusing or complicated about it."

This testimony impresses the NEW YORK SUN as indicating that "the investigation is not as idle as it promised to be," and that paper presents the query and comment: "Will the members of Congress who were present and those who were not present believe what Mr. Baruch spoke for the nation when he urged a balanced Federal budget as the very foundation stone of recovery? Though Congress has paid greater heed to economy at this session than at the last, there is still no convincing evidence of a disposition to take balancing the budget as seriously as it deserves to be taken, as seriously as it is taken, for instance, by a man like Mr. Baruch. Congress seems inclined still to temporize with an issue that needs to be grasped firmly and settled definitely."

Weekly Health Talk

"Maternal mortality in the United States represents a most unenviable figure. In spite of the efficiency of the medical profession, the fine hospitals and the advanced knowledge of antiseptic control, nearly 16,000 women lost their lives from child-birth or associated conditions in this country last year. Unfortunately, this sorry situation is to a great extent beyond the definite control of the attending physician and public health officials," stated Dr. Theodore B. Apple, state secretary of health.

"For example, many cases of the death-dealing child-bed fever, technically known as puerperal Septicemia, are the results of self-induced abortion which often creates a situation far more dangerous than child-birth.

"It would thus appear that the gravity of this practice is not properly appreciated. Were its significance fully realized, this hazardous method of side-stepping child-birth would become rare, and the death rate from child-bed fever would be diminished.

"Indeed, after eliminating abortion which, usually self-induced, causes one-fourth of the puerperal Septicemia deaths, the remainder of child-bed fever fatalities are mainly due to preventable infections.

"However, speaking generally, innocent or willful neglect on the part of expectant mothers, to a great extent responsible for the maternal death rate. When the loss of mother-life can thus be traced in large part to preventable causes, the situation becomes more deplorable.

"Somehow, expectant mothers must be made to realize that the proper time to seek medical attention for the emergency is when the expectancy is first realized. Pre-natal care is the great bulwark against many of the conditions that cause havoc and tragedy at the birth.

"Indeed, it is safe to say that if every expectant mother would place herself under the direct supervision of a physician at the beginning of the term, the present maternal mortality rates could not only greatly but spectacularly be reduced. Unfortunately, however, as far as public health officials are concerned it is the sad old story of 'You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink.'

Conditions Outside Pennsylvania Cause Action Says Pinchot

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 28.—The text of a statement issued by Gov. Gifford Pinchot today as he signed the resolution providing for the emergency banking plan in Pennsylvania follows:

"I have just signed a joint resolution passed by the legislature this evening which makes it unnecessary to declare a moratorium for Pennsylvania banks. There will be no such moratorium.

"Conditions which have arisen from causes largely outside of the commonwealth have made this action necessary.

"Unquestionably only a small minority of the banks of Pennsylvania will at this time find it advisable to take advantage of the terms of the joint resolution. How few are compelled to do so will depend on the restraint and co-operation of their depositors.

Small Number Affected.
"The small number of banks affected by this resolution will, upon application to the secretary of banking, be authorized to set up two kinds of accounts:

"1. Balances existing before the bank applies for such authority.

These may not be withdrawn in full immediately, but may be withdrawn in such proportion, if any, as the secretary of banking approves.

"2. New balances created by deposits made after the application shall be received. These new balances must be one hundred per cent liquid and can be withdrawn in full at any time.

"The people of Pennsylvania may safely draw from their banks the money they need for current expenses. Cashing checks for this purpose is not what endangers the banks. It is the demand for large sums for hoarding which makes the trouble.

"This action is taken to safeguard the mass of Pennsylvania depositors from suffering from the needless desire of hysterical depositors to withdraw their funds. It should also preclude the immediate calling of many loans and the hasty foreclosure of many mortgages which otherwise would be unavoidable.

"The passage of this resolution is proof that the government of this commonwealth is alive to the interests of its people in the banking system of Pennsylvania. It should have the effect of quieting much talk and many unnecessary fears."

Relief Sales Tax In Pennsylvania To End Tonight

Tax Must Be Paid Before April 1 According To State Law

Midnight tonight marks the finish of the one per cent emergency relief sales tax which was passed in the special session of the General Assembly in 1932. By the provisions of the act itself the sales tax was to last only until midnight of February 28, 1933 and tomorrow the merchants again do business without having to lay aside one per cent for a sales tax.

The necessity for such a bill arose out of the fact that $12,000,000 was needed for relief purposes. Some $17,000,000 had been slashed from current appropriations but these went to make up a deficit caused by a shrinkage of revenues and it was necessary to get more money or else pass no relief legislation.

Many tax bills were presented but all of them had defects in them serious enough to prohibit their passage. As a final, emergency measure, the one per cent sales tax was passed to meet the need. Under its provisions only tangible, personal property not sold for resale was to be taxed, nor were goods sold to the federal government or in interstate traffic or a farmer selling his own produce to be taxed.

The bill is a retail sales tax upon tangible things, such as groceries, coal, shoes, clothing, jewelry and the like. Services such as physicians, engineers, salesmen and the like are not taxed. The tax runs from September 1, 1932 to February 28, 1933, and must be paid on or before April 1, 1933.

No Overhead Cost For State Relief Work In Lawrence County

"There is no such thing as overhead in the supervision and distribution of state relief funds in Lawrence county," declared Senator George T. Weingartner, chairman of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board, today. The statement was occasioned by the resignation of E. A. Sweeney of Westmoreland county, from that county's emergency relief board in which he charged that too much money was being used in the payment of relief workers.

"We have no paid workers in the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board," continued Senator Weingartner. "Every dollar of money appropriated by the state for relief here is spent in orders for food and fuel. What the condition is in Westmoreland or Allegheny counties I do not know, but here in Lawrence county the people are getting 100 per cent of the relief money."

Volunteer Workers.
The members of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board have given of their time and energy freely," said Senator Weingartner. "This has meant many days of work but not one cent was paid for that work. We have no paid investigators, no paid secretaries, no dietitians, no nutritionists, no paid clerks. It is a real job of work, but the board members have been more than willing to do it freely without salary or expenses.

In the distribution of milk to school children, we are using the two state nurses who are doing this work in addition to their other duties. They are and have been, on salary in the department of health for a number of years and their work in the milk distribution is an added job which they have assumed cheerfully. May I add that these

Few Cases Listed For March Court

Indications are that the March term of criminal court will not last the customary two weeks. District Attorney John Powers says that he has fewer cases on the list than for any March term since he took office. Usually the March term is the largest of the year. Cases for the coming term have been materially reduced owing to pleas entered by prisoners. Most of the cases for trial are of a somewhat trivial character and will not require much time.

Every One Can Have Money If He Only WANTS IT

People who buy automobiles or any thing else on time usually meet the payments if they want to.

That's the point—"WANT TO". They might lose the article if payments are not made, so they are compelled to pay because they WANT the article.

Also interest has to be paid on these installments. This shows that every one can save something even if it is small and it is the lot of small change put together which makes the large amount.

You cannot strike as hard with a tack hammer as you can with a sledge.

Why not save the pennies now to buy something later which requires a "sledge"? Besides that you receive interest while saving instead of paying interest.

You Can if You WANT TO.

With Uncle Samuel's Boys on Maneuvers

"Down among the sugar cane" is not as sweet as it sounds if this is the particular cane field mentioned in the song, for that heap of the sweet stuff you see there conceals a deadly anti-aircraft gun. The photo was made near Honolulu, Hawaii, during the recent combined maneuvers of Uncle Sam's Army and Navy. At right, the boys are shown enjoying a cooling shower after their labors in repulsing the "enemy."

'Y' RUNNERS CARRY TORCH INTO GROVE CITY AT NOON

A sturdy New Castle marathon runner who within a few weeks will enter a stiff marathon grind at Boston, set the pace this morning for the seven youthful Hi-Y runners who carried the Y. M. C. A. fellowship torch, by foot, to Grove City.

Alfred Snyder, protégé of Lin Dicks, well known runner here, accompanied the Y youths "just to give me a chance to keep in trim." Snyder ran the entire distance to Grove City; the boys ran in relays. They drove an auto for the riders.

With the torch raised high, the seven, William Pherson, Jack Cole, Bob Wilkins, Bill Boyard, James Kirkpatrick, James Fox and John Stump, left the Y building at 7:30 a. m., arriving in Grove City at noon.

Outside of the Mercer county town a group of civic leaders, including a group of Grove City Rotarians, met the boys and escorted them to the Rotary club meeting. A program had been arranged for the luncheon welcome in advance.

Boys' Work Secretary W. A. Thomas, of the local Y said the seven youths ran an average of four miles apiece. The four were run in relays and not in one continuous run.

At Grove City the New Castle runners were greeted by a group of Grove City Hi-Y boys, headed by their leader, Joe Hartman, a former New Castleite. Rotary served them a dinner and then the torch, symbolical of good will and friendship, was turned over to the Grove City lads.

Appropriate programs at the meetings of the Uparatasa fraternity and the Senior and George Washington junior high school Hi-Ys last night marked the climax to the week end pause of the torch here.

New Bank Laws Passed In Ohio

State Is Intrinsed Behind Bulwark Of New Laws To Affect Stability

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 28.—The state of Ohio today was intrinsed behind a bulwark of two new laws, passed with unprecedented speed by the state legislature last night, designed to permit state banks to restrict withdrawals and affect permanent banking stability.

One of the new laws empowers the banking superintendent to suspend payments by any bank for a period of one to 120 days. The other allows banks to place themselves in liquidation voluntarily and without permission of the banking department. Both laws became effective immediately.

Cincinnati and Columbus state banks promptly announced a restriction of withdrawals to five percent, following the advance action taken yesterday by banks in Cleveland, Akron, Dayton, Youngstown, Canton, Springfield, Massillon and other cities and towns.

Senate Acts Favorably On Bankruptcy Reform Act

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—In the face of a swiftly-approaching adjournment, the senate today resumed consideration of two remaining appropriation bills after passing a precedent-shattering bankruptcy reform act, which would permit a scaling down on individual, farm and railroad debts.

The bankruptcy act would permit individuals or groups of farmers to effect a compromise with their creditors for settlement of all outstanding debts. It would authorize a liquidation of debts rather than the present system of discharging debts through bankruptcy. It passed the senate 44 to 8.

This emergency measure carries a section, giving insolvent railroads a chance to reorganize, recapitalize, consolidate or merge providing the plan meets with the approval of the interstate commerce commission. It would permit the carriers to reduce their capitalization and scale down their debts. The railroads would be authorized specifically to "modify the rights of creditors" or of security-holders, if necessary, to achieve a solid financial basis.

The bill previously passed the house in somewhat different form.

HARRY POWELL TELLS PANAMA MANEUVERS

In an interesting letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Powell of 1011 North Mercer street, Harry S. Powell, Jr., of the United States engineers located in Panama describes some of the maneuvers which were recently held in the Canal Zone. His letter follows:

Here's your son, a little tired but no worse for wear. I imagine you will be interested to know what I did on maneuvers so I am going to give you as many details as possible. We pulled out Tuesday night or rather Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock. We hiked four miles to Balboa and crossed the canal at Thatcher Ferry at 4:30 o'clock. We arrived at the Pan Beach by a roundabout way at 5:20, a distance of almost 10 miles. This we did with full packs, rifles, rations for two days and other necessary equipment. From 5:20 to 11 a. m. we waited and helped get the trucks ready for the trip over the mountains. We boarded the trucks at 11 a. m. and arrived at the destination about 4:30 in the afternoon, covering a distance of about 46 miles. We passed through the native villages of Chorrera, Capu and Benjica. The mountains were gorgeous, jungle foliage striving to live on the peaks but rather unsuccessfully. The prettiest view was when we were at the top of the largest range preparing to descend and we could see a distance of about 22 miles and see the Pacific ocean and the road which wound around and around, such as you see in the movies when you meet yourself coming back. When we reached the bottom we could look back and see track of the trucks winding on and on.

I was especially impressed by Trinidad Peak, a mountain with its peak going straight up, forming a cliff 1500 feet in height. Its total height being around 3000 feet. We then passed on and through Benjica and camped on a large plain the other side of Benjica between the native villages of Benjica and Chamme.

There were about 8000 troops and officers amassed here within a square mile. At night you could see the fires of the kitchens glowing all around. Boy, it was beautiful.

B company got up early and moved out early the next morning and hiked north of Benjica and made camp and built a temporary bridge and road over a small creek for the ration and supply trucks to get by. We built the road and bridge with only axes and bolos and shovels and picks in one hour flat with about 60 men working at a killing pace. The road was about 500 feet in length. We built the bridge of heavy logs, filled the crevices with dirt and rolled it flat with an enormous log which took 20 men to roll. We were given special mention for this.

The next day, Friday, we did the usual camp duties, police up, cut firewood, dig garbage pits, etc. The second platoon moved out with infantry and we got orders, that is, the first platoon, to set up our Lambert bridge that afternoon because General Fiske was coming to see it. We rushed to the river three miles distant and made two trips, a distance of 12 miles all told, including trips both ways. Harris and I being the only two men who were light enough and could paddle, took off in a Lambert boat and crossed the river about 300 feet with a light half-inch rope to which was attached the cable line of two-inch rope. We paddled across safely and had to wade thru mud up to our hips to get solid ground to attach the cable rope. Getting through about a hundred feet in length, boy it was tough. It sucked and pulled at you but we made it and pulled and made fast the cable rope with a bowline knot and started to recross the river. We pulled ourselves back by cable and rope about 60 feet from shore and a bug hit me. I quit pulling to slap the bug and Harris, having his back to me, kept pulling the rope and knocked me overboard so I swam to the rope which was about a foot above the water and pulled myself in, hand over hand, because we had seen several crocodiles upstream and even though they don't come around a lot of noise I didn't take any chances. I came in, hand over hand, mighty fast. It was great fun and since I was soaked I worked as boat handler in water from my waist to my shoulders.

When the bridge was assembled the general crossed it and we were commended again.

That night we pushed off at 9:20 o'clock and made a hike to our old camp south of Benjica and camped in the jungle around the field. All we did was put up our mosquito bars and lay on the ground with our packs and boy we slept.

We rested all day Saturday and watched the second field artillery come in by ten bombers and 11 observation planes and one scout or pursuit plane. Within 17 minutes of the time the first plane landed the first shot was fired. I think it is a record for the army. We left camp at 2 o'clock Sunday morning and hiked 12 miles, a slow pace, and arrived at our destination, nine miles the other side of Benjica, and rested until trucks and chivars arrived to take us in to the post. We arrived here at 2 p. m. and we certainly were glad to get back.

On Friday we hiked all told a little better than 25 miles by a pedometer carried by the first sergeant so you know we really worked hard and hiked a bit, but in all it was a great time. Our camp south of Benjica was all surrounded by mountains except at one end and it started to taper towards the sea.

To take a bath we had to walk three miles through Chamme and as it was fresh water and waist deep we enjoyed it to get the dirt off. We only had time for one bath and that was on Saturday but it was great. We had oranges, oranges and more oranges and they only cost a cent apiece and the natives sold plenty. Cocoanuts we swiped from a grove about two miles distant. We have a couple of good climbers in the outfit so we had plenty of coconut milk.

I slept on the ground fully clothed, and I would rather sleep on the ground than on a blanket as it is easier to find a hole to lay in. Also, believe it or not, I didn't catch cold and I feel great. It has toughened me and I was able to put out and work hard and I didn't fall out or get sick.

Quite a few men fell out. All we do is call the pill rollers, meaning medicine men, and they give them a shot of water and rum and make him rest and if he is not too bad he pushes on to his outfit. Well I must come to a close.

(International News Service) CLEARFIELD, Pa., Feb. 28.—Mayor Eddie McCloskey today was under subpoena to testify in the trial of J. J. Devine, private detective, and eight others accused of kidnaping Garret Schenck, New Jersey fish peddler, and holding him as a suspect in the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

The case is expected to go to the jury tomorrow. A ninth defendant, Police Chief Russell Love of DuBois, has been granted a separate trial. Garrett took the stand late yesterday as the star witness for the prosecution and told his version of the alleged abduction. He said he was held captive from June 10 to September 3 and that the defendants plied him with questions during all that time.

Relating how he was abducted, Schenck said: "Devine told me I had to go to Trenton about a motor law violation. Pretty soon I saw we wasn't going the right way. Devine said he had to get somebody else. He kept driving till we got to the cabin in Clearfield county where they held me."

JAP DELEGATE TO RETURN HOME VIA U.S.

Reverses His Early Decision

Will Arrive In New York On March 22; To Cross U. S. Enroute Home

WAS AFFRONTED AT STIMSON'S ACTION

By WILLIAM PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1933, by International News Service.)

PARIS, Feb. 28.—In a swift reversal of decision, Yosuke Matsuoka, who was Japanese delegate to the League of Nations, revealed to close friends today his intention of returning to Tokyo by way of the United States.

He will arrive in New York March 22 aboard the liner Europa, an unimpeachable source disclosed.

Yesterday Matsuoka let it be known that Secretary of State Stimson's action in approving the league's condemnation of Japanese military activities had caused him to change his plans and give up his proposed visit to the United States.

He was then reported "offended" by the state department's note approving the league's Manchurian report, the cause of Japan's withdrawal from the league assembly.

This significant change in Matsuoka's plans was revealed exclusively to International News Service by a Japanese source close to the diplomat, although scores of correspondents at Matsuoka's hotel were officially informed:

"Mr. Matsuoka has no statement to make but there is a possibility he may make a statement later today.

Correct this sentence: "I am humbly courteous to people," said the man, "because that prompts them to treat me the same way."

To Open 'M. U. F.' Drive Thursday

Beaver Falls Pastor Named To Address Youths As Drive Commences

PLAN INTERVIEWS ON MARCH 14-15

The Rev. D. Bruce Martin, Reformed Presbyterian church minister from Patterson Heights, Beaver Falls, will deliver the opening message as the annual "Move Up Forward" drive is inaugurated among junior and senior boys at the senior high school on Thursday morning, March 2, Boys' Work Secretary W. A. Thomas today announced.

Rev. Martin is to speak at the assembly in which Y. M. C. A. leaders, aided by Senior Hi-Y club boys, will outline the general objectives of the yearly campaign. The chapel will commence at 10:30 a. m.

Assisting the Hi-Y youths in conducting the drive will be Chairman Julius Blaha and his vocational guidance committee of the local Kiwanis club. Kiwanians here, together with the men from other service clubs, will volunteer their time and service to the campaign.

Men from practically every walk of life, business and profession are available to the senior and junior young men who desire to have personal interviews with the city's prominent leaders during the two days the campaign occurs.

A youth who aspires to become a doctor, or perhaps one who desires to study law, will find medical and legal men there to advise them and to answer what questions the young interrogators may put forth.

Boys' Work Secretary Thomas and Robert Mills, senior high faculty adviser to the Hi-Y boys, will handle the drive for the two institutions. John Stump, president of the Senior Hi-Y, will supervise the interviewing work at the school.

While the students who desire interviews will fill application forms this week, the interviews proper will not begin until Tuesday and Wednesday, March 14 and 15. Sufficient time will be given for the campaign conductors to select men to interview the boys.

Attempts To Gain Residences Here Being Frustrated

County commissioners are keeping a sharp lookout for persons who move here from other counties, and who are likely to become charges on Lawrence county.

In some cases that have been investigated it has been found that newcomers have been given sufficient money to rent a house and settle down in an effort to gain a residence in this county. In a number of instances such persons have been removed to the counties from which they came. Some of those attempting to gain a residence here have been from Ohio. Citizens who have the interests of the county at heart can help out the county commissioners by reporting any cases that they have reason to suspect.

Your Income Tax In A Nutshell

NO. 25

DEPRECIATION ALLOWANCES

The amount to be recovered by depreciation is the cost of the property, if acquired after February 28, 1913. If acquired by purchase prior to that date, the basis is the cost of the property, less depreciation sustained prior to March 1, 1913, or the value on March 1, 1913, whichever is greater.

The proper allowance for depreciation is that amount which should be set aside for the taxable year in accordance with a reasonably consistent plan (not necessarily a uniform rate), whereby the aggregate amount so set aside, plus the salvage value, will at the end of the useful life of the property equal the cost or other basis of the property.

The depreciation rate of a building is not based upon the number of years it will stand before being condemned, but rather upon the number of years it will remain habitable or serviceable for the purpose for which constructed.

If the taxpayer builds a new building, the period over which depreciation may be claimed begins at the time the building is completed and capable of being used. Buildings under construction are not subject to a depreciation allowance.

If it is clearly shown that, because of economic or other conditions, property must be abandoned at a date prior to the end of its normal useful life, so that depreciation deductions alone are insufficient to return the cost or other basis, a reasonable deduction for obsolescence may be allowed in addition to depreciation. No deduction for obsolescence is permitted, however, in the opinion of the taxpayer, the property may become obsolete at some future date.

To Dedicate Y Hut At Slippery Rock

(Special To The News)

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Feb. 28.—Formal dedication of the Y. M. C. A. Hut, according to an announcement made by the president, Donald Gibbons, will be held early in March.

This new addition to the campus buildings is a real solution to the leisure time problem to the average college man. Slippery Rock is the only State Teachers College that has been honored by an appropriation for an extra-curricular club building.

The hut has an artificial brick exterior with a large stone chimney and concrete foundations. Practically all the chestnut lumber for the interior of the building was obtained from the college woods. Approval, from the Forestry Department, was secured to cut 225 Chestnut trees which had been attacked by blight. At the present time work is being completed on the large open fire place, which is located in the lounge room. The lounge at present contains 30 large chairs, and 100 folding chairs, but in the near future it is planned to furnish the room with over-stuffed furniture.

The faculty committee composed of: Dr. J. L. Eisenberg, N. K. Thompson, A. C. Fisher, Clyde H. Lady, Archie Dodds, Miss Marie McKay, George T. Miller, and Walter Elder with the financial aid of the entire faculty, have spent untiring efforts in obtaining complete equipment for the new building.

The building will be at the disposal of every man of the college from 8:30 a. m. until 10:30 each evening except Saturday. Saturday evening the building will be open until 11 o'clock.

According to faculty adviser Clyde H. Lady, it is hoped that the hut will be a place where every male of the college can feel free to enjoy the fellowship of his classmates.

Lose Many Books From Local Library

New Law Will Curb Disappearance From Shelves Of Public Library

Almost a thousand books were lost by the New Castle Free Public Library last year, the annual report of Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, shows.

Of this number, 275 were lost in circulation. These were books which were borrowed and never returned. Books which were missing when the inventory was taken at the end of the year, were 673. These books were most likely stolen from the library, being spirited out under clothing or perhaps under the arms of the borrowers.

Books which were known to be in the possession of certain persons were recovered last December by Miss Sterling, when she visited a number of homes, accompanied by Officer Thomas Lynch. The number secured was surprising.

The new state law, which will undoubtedly be passed at the present session of the state legislature, will impose a fine and imprisonment, for all persons who keep books in their possession longer than a specified time, or who have library books in their homes.

At the end of 1932, there were 34,905 books on the shelves of the library. 3,586 new books were added to the adult division and 1,364 to the juvenile. Books withdrawn totaled 3,688, making a net gain for the year of 1,462.

The members of the Y. M. C. A. organization are collecting literature for the reading room. This literature is to be mainly of a religious nature, but it will also contain current magazines and other publications.

The ground floor will have two rooms for student officers, who will live there and act as proctors. At the present time the rooms are occupied by Donald Gibbons and Michael Wargo.

The work on the bowling alleys has been delayed until the concrete floor hardens, but it is expected that two bowling alleys will be installed in the near future. In addition to the bowling alleys, the basement will also house billiard and pool tables.

Kernit Rowan, Edward Kruse, Loyal Liken, and Robert Follette, working under the supervision of Walter Elder, Manual Training Instructor, have completed a series of games, consisting of: ping-pong, checkers, and chess for the game room.

The building will be at the disposal of every man of the college from 8:30 a. m. until 10:30 each evening except Saturday. Saturday evening the building will be open until 11 o'clock.

New-Castle Union Prepare For Battle At New Wilmington

Lawrence County School Teams To Battle For Right To Go To Pittsburgh

New Castle Hi Holds Early Season Victory; Union High Is After Revenge

With a trip to Pittsburgh for the quarter finals of the W. P. I. A. L. as the stake, New Castle high basketball team, and Union high will battle at Westminster College gym, New Wilmington, Wednesday night. The game will be supervised by the W. P. I. A. L. tourney committee and will start at 8 o'clock.

New Castle high won Section Three title after several tough games from New Brighton, Beaver Falls and Butler. The Bridenbaughs are anxious to continue on to Pittsburgh. But first they must dispose of Union High coached by the youthful David M. Boyd, and this is going to be harder than one would believe.

Union Is Good. Union held New Castle 25 to 22 at the Washington high floor in December, and out in Union township there are many who think that Union will take the measure of New Castle tomorrow night. Well, anyway it's going to be a battle all the way.

The followers of both teams will journey to the college town to see the teams in action. Indications point to a packed house for the engagement. Tickets went on sale Monday and met a ready response. The tickets sell for 40 cents if bought here in New Castle, but if the fans wait until they reach the gate at the Westminster gym the price will be 50 cents.

Gym Is Donated. Westminster College officials have donated the use of the gym to New Castle and Union high for their titular game. Coach John D. Lawther is in the East today with the Westminster Titans. The donating of the gym to the high schools was a gracious act by the college officials, and is appreciated.

The Westminster gym will be well policed and preparations, are complete for excellent service to the fans, in the matter of buying tickets, and in the finding of seats.

Final Polishing. Coach Bridenbaugh is giving his New Castle artists a final polishing, while Coach Boyd is spending a great deal of time with his boys and indications point to a first class contest.

Bridenbaugh will use the same lineup that started the Butler game, with Teplica and Ridley at the forwards. Keely at center and Reiber and Komick at the guards.

Coach Boyd is banking on Borron, Morrison, Phillips, Schaas and Monico to carry the Union colors. Wayne White is laid up with an infected foot and will not be able to play.

Grove City On Two Day Trip

Grove City College Team Will Play Carnegie Tech Tonight At Pittsburgh

GROVE CITY, Feb. 28.—The Grove City floor squad left this morning for Pittsburgh for the first of two games on successive evenings which will test the stamina of Bob Thorn's team. Tonight, Carnegie Tech will entertain the Groves, who will move on to Waynesburg Wednesday evening for an important Tri-State conference clash with the Yellow Jackets.

Tonight's game with Tech is the first of the year between the clubs, which have been close basketball rivals for many years. Coach Bob Thorn gave his club a brief workout yesterday, pointing out the difficult task his squad faces in meeting two of the district's best teams on successive nights. Thorn is anxious to win both road encounters, and has pointed his squad for a great effort.

The game at Waynesburg, and the return game with Westminster at New Wilmington next Tuesday evening will wind up the Crimson schedule. Both these contests will have an important bearing on the standing of the Tri-state conference. Two victories for the Groves would put Thorn's team close behind Geneva, while a double defeat would push the Groves into fourth place.

Ruth Denies Being Signed Up As Manager

Babe Ruth Stops Playing Golf In Florida Long Enough To Deny Latest Rumor

(International News Service) ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 28.—Another perfectly good baseball rumor was killed today when Babe Ruth denied emphatically he had been offered the post of manager of the Boston Red Sox for 1934.

Ruth was corralled by an International News Service reporter as he prepared for an informal round of golf with some friends.

"Congratulations," piped the reporter. "What for?" demanded Ruth. "I lost yesterday. If that handicap committee had been right I would have won. Lost by a stroke on a handicap that was two strokes too low."

"Not on golf," replied the reporter, "on your appointment as manager of the Red Sox for 1934."

"What?" bellowed Ruth. "The Red Sox?"

"First I've heard of it, I have not been approached by anyone on the proposition of becoming the Red Sox manager this year or any other year."

"I'm still on the Yankee reserve list," said Babe. "And I can't do anything until the Yankees release me."

"Will they do that little thing?" he was asked.

"Hope not," snapped the Babe.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Les Conklin observes that the Brooklyn fans are showing a marked resentment over the trading of Dazzy Vance, speed ball twirler. A symposium conducted by a Brooklyn newspaper and letters written to sports editors of other newspapers by indignant followers of the Dodgers, indicates the club is losing favor by its policy of getting rid of Vance and other picturesque diamond figures. Matters in Brooklyn have been aggravated by the departure of Wilbert Robinson and Babe Herman and with the exception of Hack Wilson, the Dodgers now have no more color than a pair of mail order pajamas. Uncle Robbie, Herman and Vance had tremendous personal followings in the City of Churches which no doubt has something to do with the outcry.

Sale of Al Simmons, Mule Haas and Jimmy Dykes to the Chicago White Sox will cripple the Philadelphia Athletics in the opinion of Bucky Harris, manager of the Detroit Tigers. "The A's will have to pick up some pretty good players to fill the gaps left by the loss of that trio," he said. When asked if he thought any other club in the league had much of a chance to stop the Yankees in 1933, Harris said: "Either Washington or Cleveland would be hard to beat if they could plug up one weak link. The real hope of the pact is that Babe Ruth or some of the other vets on the Yankees' slip, which would be a break for the whole league because it would mean a close race. If Ruth starts to skid no one is going to take his place in a great hurry," he said. Gomez and Ruffing are great hurlers and when they grow shaky Old Man Pennock will be ready for the firing line.

Eyes of the wrestling world have centered on Jim Browning who pinned the shoulders of Strangler Lewis to the mat. They will watch how he wins from other wrestlers and according to dope he will have to have more than a scissors hold to keep out in front where the victory over Lewis put him. The Strangler had lost some of the appeal he once had and it may come to pass the win by Browning may do lots for the wrestling game. And talking about wrestling, Joe Banaski and John Kilonis, heavyweights will meet Thursday night at Youngstown. The winner will be who wins the best two of three falls which will be a one hour limit match. Louis Lachere vs. Frank French and Joe Montana and Leo Alexander, heavyweights, will wrestle in the other bouts.

Fifteenth annual basketball tournament of the Mercer county high schools will be held at the Grove City college gym March 7-8 and March 10-11.

E. R. Avery and K. K. Tinkler defeated A. W. Law, Jr., and Covington, 6-4, 6-4, to earn the right to meet George Lott and Clifford Sutter in the tennis semi-final round today at Hamilton, Bermuda.

Duquesne U. cagers last night earned their 12th consecutive victory of the season in defeating West Virginia in a more or less ragged game, 32 to 25, at Morgantown, W. Va.

Senator Van Sant has introduced a bill in the Delaware legislature to permit horse racing, but gambling would be penalized by a $100 fine.

James A. Farley, chairman of the New York state athletic commission, will resign his post today. He is to be postmaster-general in the Roosevelt cabinet. Dr. D. W. Wear will succeed Farley on the commission.

Teddy Yarosz and Eddie Kid Wolfe fought a 10 round draw last night at Pittsburgh. One judge voted for Yarosz, another decided in favor of Wolfe and the referee Tommy Reilly, called the battle a draw. It was their fourth fight. Reilly was imported from Philadelphia. It will be recalled he refereed the first Dempsey-Tunney fight.

Three consecutive rounds of below par golf gave Gene Sarazen the "unofficial golf championship" yesterday as he smothered Olin Dutra 11 up with 10 holes to play in their 72 hole match at Miami, Fla.

Ohio State Holds Basketball Lead

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Ohio State maintained its lead in the Western Conference basketball race today after defeating Purdue, 29 to 17, in an evening's activity which brought eight Big Ten quintets into action.

Northwestern maintained its hold on second position by defeating Indiana, 45 to 32 after a second half rush.

Each is six feet, five inches tall and the star marksmen of his team. They battle for scoring honors.

Local Wrestlers To Meet Butler

Former U. S. Navy Middle-weight Champ To Tackle W. Adams

NICK GEORGE TO MEET HOAGLAND

Grapplers will cavort Wednesday night at the Y, according to Henry MacNichols who said that Butler Y would play New Castle Y. Eight matches will be staged. Two weeks ago Warren, O. Y defeated the local catch-as-catch-can artists and they hope to redeem some of their prestige by downing Butler. Prior to the meet Butler Big Y and New Castle Big Y basketball teams will clash at 8 p. m.

The matches arranged follow: 122 pound class—David McCari vs. Cartwright or Brooks. 135 pound class—Harvey Braine vs. T. Gennock. 135 pound class—Howard Kilnk vs. J. George. 145 pound class—Alfred Hoagland vs. N. George. 155 pound class—McCandless vs. Pavesi James. 155 pound class—Ray Meyers vs. George Robeson. 165 pound class—Norman Ross vs. W. Adams. 175 pound class—Ed. Rolls vs. P. Fabian.

In the 165 class W. Adams will oppose Ross, a former middleweight champion of the United States navy.

Sarazen Shoots Brilliant Golf

(International News Service) MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28.—Olin Dutra P. G. A. champion, who was swamped by Gene Sarazen 11 up and 10 to play in their 72-hole "unofficial world's golf championship" match, ruefully recalled today the old adage that "a sick golfer is the hardest to beat."

Although in poor physical trim when the match started Sunday, the U. S. and British open champion flashed the longest sustained run of super-golf seen in many years by turning in rounds of 68, 67, 67 and a 30 for the last eight holes. His average of 13 under par far eclipsed the Californian's good scores of 71, 73 and 70.

Weygant And Romeo O'Dowd-O'Leary Bout Fails To Excite Fans Here

Go Six Hot Rounds

What appeared on paper as a very good scrap turned out to be a scientific, though listless encounter here, May 17, when Dick O'Leary and Eddie O'Dowd went 10 rounds.

O'Leary forced what fighting there was and tried several times to inveigle O'Dowd into an exchange of blows but he was content to do only as much battling as would earn him a draw. The Eddie Weygant-Romeo Pacelli, six round semi-final was a better liked fight according to the fans. The fight was called a draw. Weygant forced the fighting, landed more often and delivered the heaviest blows. He was shaken up when Romeo nailed him on the chin in one round.

Farley To Quit Boxing Post To Aid Roosevelt

Newly Appointed Postmaster General Quits Boxing Commission

CEREMONIES ARE CARDED TODAY

By DAVIS J. WALSH International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Formally and with just a touch of the ceremonious, that incredible man known as James A. Farley, the public official, will turn back today for one, brief hour to the life he once knew. Then, with something of the finality of a key turning in a lock, the past will be dismissed and James A. Farley, the man, will be free to finish the strange, almost fantastic story that begins in the sand and gravel of Haverstraw, N. Y., pauses briefly in the brownstone respectability of East 84th street and finishes at the right hand of the president himself.

Tenders Resignation. Today, he will tender his resignation in person to the solemn and sometimes trivial organization known as the New York Boxing commission, sitting in on its deliberations for the last time and passing judgment on the prize fight manager who didn't do right by somebody in cohorts. This was Farley's only previous job under the Democratic regime.

Tomorrow or the next day, he will be on his way to Washington and the historic inauguration of a president whose election Farley, of the boxing business, alone made possible. By Saturday, he will be sitting with Mr. Roosevelt's official family as postmaster general, while dynasties tremble and the world itself pauses, doubtful and irresolute.

Is Through Today. The contrast with the man who today will play prize fight commissioner for the last time—by flashlight, movietone and handclasp—is almost abrupt.

But not for Farley. He's the great commoner of modern politics, the man who has come a long way in a short time, yet manages to remain pretty much the "townie" with large folk who played first base for the ball team and kind of enjoyed the folks around the fire house. Jim Farley has done a lot of things in the last year that make for fame and greatness but I'll always remember him for something that really seems worth while. He has kept his liaison with you.

Ambridge High Trims Lebanon

Ambridge High defeated Mt. Lebanon High 31 to 27 last night at the Pitt Stadium in a second-round game in the W. P. I. A. L. school-boy basketball tourney. Ambridge now joins East Pittsburgh, and Canonsburg as winners of tourney games to date.

Mt. Lebanon High had a long string of victories up until last night, and were ahead at the half, but Ambridge made a garrison finish and squeezed out a four-point victory.

Charlie Baxter of Pittsburgh defeated Billy Joyce of New Castle by a technical knockout in the fifth of a scheduled 10-round bout at Youngstown last night. Referee Colias stopped the fight on account of a bad cut above his right eye. The gash was made in the opening round.

ST. VITUS WINS St. Vitus basketball team topped the East Brook Indians 27 to 25 in a game played at the East Brook floor. Fonzono and Calazza led the St. Vitus team.

St. Andrews To Play At Sharon

Neither does the wise automobile owner sacrifice lubrication because a light, thin oil makes his motor start easily. What use is easy starting if the motor is ruined?

With Tough-Film Pennzoil Motor Oil, the all-weather oil, you can have both easy starting and adequate, safe lubrication. Pennzoil flows at any winter temperature; protects at highest operating temperatures. It is double refined for extra toughness. That's why the correct grade of Pennzoil ends oil failure, cuts repair bills, lasts hundreds of miles farther than ordinary oils, gives quick starting, and reduces gasoline consumption.

Pennzoil is sold under a money-back guarantee, by Wadding's Stations bonded against substitution.

Sacred Hearts Play Israel A

Sacred Hearts Can Lead A Loop By Winning Tonight's Game

EXPECT MAHONING BAPTIST B TO WIN

With two teams deadlocked for first place and three for second position in the A division of the church league, indications are the standing will be changed tonight. Only one tilt is carded for the A loop and two for the B division where a deadlock for first and second places also exist. Wesley M. E. and Sacred Hearts are tied for first place in the A loop but Wesley M. E. will be idle tonight. Sacred Hearts will oppose Temple Israel. If the Hearts win they will forge to the leadership but if they lose will be one game behind Wesley but remain in second place. If Tifereth Israel loses they will toboggan behind First Baptist and St. Michael.

First Baptist and Second U. P. will clash in one B game tonight. First Baptist is deadlocked for first place with Mahoning Presbyterian and First Christian. The deadlock will probably continue as they are favored to beat Second U. P. and the odds favor Mahoning Presbyterians over Tifereth Israel. Tifereth Israel and Second U. P. have each dropped two games since the second half started but will try to enliven the winning column over the favorites tonight.

Mars High Tops Union 28 To 12

Mars High defeated Union High last night at Mars 28 to 12 in the final game of the Section 15 season. Coach Boyd sent his second, third and fourth stringers to Mars for the game, with Mr. Leonard in charge of the team.

The Union varsity team stayed at home and practiced under the watchful eye of Coach Boyd in preparation for their game with New Castle High Wednesday night at New Wilmington.

The Union Reserves looked good in holding the Mars team to 28 points.

Stock Market Gets Support

Leading Stocks Show Firm Tendencies During Morning

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Support again came into the stock market today but heavy selling of Chesapeake & Ohio nullified early rallying tendencies.

C. & O. was driven down more than a point to a new low for the year on liquidation attributed to the Ohio banking difficulties. The road's headquarters is in Cleveland.

The rest of the market sagged as a result and early gains running to more than a point were wiped out but a firm undertone was apparent.

Overnight developments contained action by Pennsylvania and Delaware legislators to restrict bank deposit withdrawals as well as spread of the restrictions in Ohio.

Rails generally gave a better performance, aided by the good earnings showing of the majority of roads in January.

General Motors was under heavy pressure but held at its low of 10. Other automobile shares were sluggish.

American Can was a reactionary leader but U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Allied Chemicals and Consolidated Gas met support. Tobaccoes were firm.

Copper stocks were unsettled by heavy selling of Anaconda. Bonds were mixed with government obligations lower. Commodities were steady.

Trading in stocks was at a slower pace than yesterday with turning in the first hour showing a decided contraction.

Ellwood High In Closing Game Of Season Tonight

1932-33 Floor Card To Be Brought To Close With Bessemer Tonight

LOCALS HOPE TO Avenge Defeat

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 28.—Basketball as far as the Ellwood City high school is concerned will end this evening at which time Bessemer will play the Benedictmen in a return contest at Lincoln gym.

This is the final game of the blue and white schedule for this year. The locals will be out tonight with their strongest line-up to oppose the best Bessemer high quintet who pulled a surprise on the Tubers two weeks ago when they walked away with a four point total victory on their home floor. The Benedictmen still feel the sting of that defeat and will be out tonight to redeem them. It was Bessemer that spoiled Ellwood's intersectional record of no defeats until their game. This gave the locals six out of seven victories here. The only other victory the Ellwoodians have this season is that over Rochester in a section 3 game.

Coach "Gandy" Benedict has been drilling his proteges for the contest tonight for the past several days. In the final practice last night the squad has shown more coordination than any time this season. Coach Benedict will have his full squad available for the game.

Elated with their victory over their Class A rivals in their first encounter Coach Frederick is bringing an inspired and determined Bessemer high quintet to this city tonight for a return contest with the Ellwoodians. They have gained much in confidence as a result of this game and will be hard to defeat tonight. The Tubers will have to be in top form if they are to take over the invaders. Bessemer will keep a sharp eye on Bunney and Captain Bolotin this evening. This two lads were responsible for most of Ellwood's score in the first game.

The Reserves and local H-Y team will play the preliminary at 7:15.

One fender bending experience entitles a driver to membership in the novitiate. A second experience makes him eligible for the blue service stripe and a third experience gets him a permit to carry a gun. A constitution and by-laws are yet to be framed but the lodge song has been prepared. Listen to it if you have time.

A new organization is in the formative stage, sponsored by a few local autoists who have been the victim of the awkward parker. The new lodge will be known as the Fender Benders Fraternity, with membership limited to those car owners who have had their fenders bent or scraped while parked at the curb.

Our hearts contain no malice for Henry, Joe or Alice, we like to keep the law as best we can, we try and pay our taxes upon our homes and shacks, we never put officials on the pan, but when folks bend our fenders we rise in mighty wrath and smite the rascals on the hip and thigh, we are patient, we are loyal but that makes our Irish boyal, so we promptly rise and sock him in the eye.

A membership committee consisting of H. B. Richards, Ivor V. Davis and Alderman James P. Brice will take your application at any time.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily
Mixed at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine. Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

One fender bending experience entitles a driver to membership in the novitiate. A second experience makes him eligible for the blue service stripe and a third experience gets him a permit to carry a gun. A constitution and by-laws are yet to be framed but the lodge song has been prepared. Listen to it if you have time.
A membership committee consisting of H. B. Richards, Ivor V. Davis and Alderman James P. Brice will take your application at any time.
Today marks two dates you may be interested in. It's the end of the sales tax period and the last day for your driver's license. One way to get yourself a ticket tomorrow is to drive without your license.
